About Us

We are a Native-led organization dedicated to providing culturally grounded behavioral and mental health services that honor Native American traditions, values, and healing processes.

Our Mission

Our mission is to empower Native communities through accessible, respectful, and holistic wellness services that blend traditional healing with evidence-based behavioral health care.

Our Philosophy

Wellness is how we connect to ourselves and others physically, mentally, emotionally, socially, and spiritually.

Why TribeAID?

Our only agenda is helping you meet your goals. We provide services that are:

- Native-led
- Trauma-responsive and culturally safe.
- Blended with both traditional medicine and the clinical approaches of Western medicine
- Community-centered and emphasize holistic wellness.

Holistic Behavioral Health Care Services

Culture is Healing

Promoting healing practices that encompass a holistic approach, recognizes the interconnectedness of the individual's mind, body, and spirit with community, the environment, and the spiritual world.

Talking circles are sacred traditions rooted in the circular nature of life. The teaching and sharing that occurs in talking circles offers participants the opportunity reconnect with themselves and others to heal from the trauma that is the underlying cause of substance use and other disorders.
